DRAFT ADVISER
NAMED FOR VERMONT

He Is to Work with District Board and Present Needs For Skilled Farm Workers.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 27.—The department of agriculture announced the appointment of O. L. Martin of Plainfield, Vt., to act with the district draft board of Vermont, with headquarters at Montpelier, as an advisor regarding agricultural needs.

The agricultural adviser is not to be a member of the district board, but is to furnish to the board facts relative to farm labor requirements, not only of his own district, but of the entire county. Such information will be supplied to the adviser by the department of agriculture. The adviser also may concern himself with individual cases before the district board. County agents of the department of agriculture have been supplied with questionnaires to be sent out for the purpose of securing the facts about farm-labor needs in the counties.

Service Flag Unfurled.

White River Junction, Sept. 27.—A service flag containing 131 stars representing the men who have gone to service from the village of White River Junction was unfurled here Wednesday evening, and the ceremony was attended with much formality.

The parade which had been planned was called off on account of so many people who were going to take part being ill with Spanish influenza.

The address of the evening was by Alexander Dunnett of St. Johnsbury. Hough's band of Lebanon furnished music and there was singing by a large chorus of school children.

JOHNSON NORMAL SCHOOL,
Bessie Bacon Goodrich, Principal, Johnson, Vt.

Randolph Agricultural School opens Oct. 15, 1918

The state offers a splendid opportunity for Vermont boys to secure practical agricultural training and instruction in good citizenship at the Randolph Agricultural School. A 350-acre farm is used for demonstration purposes. The school is equipped with modern buildings, including an up-to-date dairy barn and a new dormitory. Tuition is free to residents of Vermont. Boys are given an opportunity to earn a large part of their expenses.

For further information write
PRINCIPAL G. L. STEVENSON, Randolph Center, Vt.

The T. N. Vail Agricultural School and Farms

The session opens Oct. 1, 1918. The purpose of the school is to give any boy an opportunity to train himself for successful Vermont farming and to teach him his civic responsibilities. The equipment includes farm property of 1,800 acres, giving an opportunity to study every form of typical Vermont farming. The teaching method is based upon learning by doing. Tuition is free to boys of Vermont, and ample opportunity is given to earn, by work, a large part of the expense.

RHEUMATISM
THE BLOOD

This Woonsocket School Teacher Tells How He Found Relief from Pain.

Many rheumatic people suffer pains that could be avoided by building up the blood. When rheumatism is associated with thin blood the rheumatism cannot be corrected until the blood is built up.

Mr. William S. Bell, of No. 60 Bernice avenue, Woonsocket, R. I., tried electrical treatment for his rheumatism but as the trouble was in the blood he did not find relief until he built up his blood by the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Mr. Bell, who is a teacher, says:

"I suffered from rheumatism for four years. The pain started in my shoulder and ran down to my elbow. At times it was dull and aching in character and at other times the pain was sharp and shooting. My shoulder was sore and my arm at times stiff and so helpless that my wife would have to help me on with my coat.

"I received so much benefit from a thorough treatment with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills that I think it my duty to make this statement.

"We have used another of Dr. Williams' preparations, Baby's Own Tablets, in our family for a number of years, and I think them an excellent remedy for children."

The purpose of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills is to build up the blood. They do this one thing and they do it well. They are for this reason an invaluable remedy in diseases arising from bad or deficient blood, as rheumatism, neuralgia, after effects of the grip and fevers. These pills are guaranteed to be free from opiates or any harmful drug and cannot injure the most delicate system.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all druggists, or will be sent by mail, postpaid, on receipt of price, 50 cents per box; six boxes, $2.50, by the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y. A booklet, "Building Up the Blood," will be mailed free to any address upon request.—Adv.

GROTON

Open-air and patriotic exercises attending the raising of a 6x10 community service flag were held on Wednesday evening in honor of the boys who have responded to their country's call from this vicinity. A large company gathered in front of the opera block and listened to speeches by Rev. Edgar Crossland and John W. Gordon of Barre. Each gave interesting talks along the line of Red Cross work, and the Liberty loan. Music was furnished by the Barre kiltie band. Thirty-three boys from this vicinity are already in the country's service and six more are expecting their call the first of next month or in the near future. Groton is justly proud of her boys.

A daughter was born Monday to Mr. and Mrs. James Henderson.

M. D. Coffin was a business visitor in St. Johnsbury Tuesday.

Mrs. J. T. Darling was called to Woodville, N. H., Tuesday by the illness of Nelson Kicker, her nephew, who was suffering from an attack of grip. The young man is reported as somewhat improved.

Grover Smith, who has been confined to the house for the past week, seriously ill with grip, is recovering.

The family of Mr. Maribah Taylor, the Molly Falls telephone operator, are all very ill with the prevailing distemper.

Mrs. Joseph Hastings of Newbury was in town this week to visit her son, Ernest Hastings, and family. The wife of the last named has not been as well for several days.

Miss Mary Hall and Miss Winifred McLam, teacher in the primary room of the graded school, have been added to the list of sick.

The village school and the moving picture house have been closed on account of the epidemic.

Pearl Heath left Thursday morning for Lexington, Mass., to accompany his wife, who has been visiting her parents, to her home here.

Mrs. W. B. Darling was in St. Johnsbury yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. James Craigie of South Ryegate were visitors in town yesterday.

Mrs. Richard Dennis was called to Lowell, Mass., Tuesday by the illness of her daughter, Mrs. Ralph Welch, and family. Mrs. Ned Lindsay has also been very ill at the same place.

A large number of guests of Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Robinson at their home on Friday evening of last week met to enjoy a corn roast. A short devotional exercise was held, followed by a fellowship meeting, and a social evening in the open, with plenty of roasted corn for all.

Miss Theresa Emery returned Tuesday from her vacation of two weeks, which she passed with relatives in Providence, R. I.

Lester Freer was in St. Johnsbury on Tuesday, having dental work done in preparation for military service, to which he expects to be called the first of the week.

Mrs. Charles Miller and Mrs. Emma Talley of South Ryegate were over-Sunday guests of Mrs. M. M. Collins.

Miss Jennie Page of Wells River visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Page, the first of the week.

Mrs. L. G. Welch passed several days last week with her daughter, Mrs. C. A. Miller, in Barre.

Mrs. Lynn Hill and daughter, Phyllis, of Northfield visited her mother, Mrs. E. T. Raymond, last week.

Mrs. Harry Hosmer and daughter, Doris, of Woodville, N. H., was a visitor in town Wednesday.

Dr. Harris Price of Malden, Mass., and mother, Mrs. H. L. Tilton, were in town over Sunday night. Dr. Price has been called to service, and drove his car to Vermont for storage during his absence. They returned to Malden on the afternoon train Friday.

Sheriff Worthen of St. Johnsbury and two deputies were in town Sunday looking for a young man by the name of Porter, who broke into the McLam store

The Farmer and the Business Man

We must feed our army. We need good crops this year, and we looked to the farmers of the country to give it to us.

But we must also clothe our army. That means wool—and we look to every man in the country to do his part to conserve the supply of wool for the government.

Not a difficult task—buy all-wool clothes. The rest has been taken care of for you. We have bought only the finest garments—Hart Schaffner & Marx. They, in turn, have made their clothing only of the best all-wool fabrics and have tailored them and finished them so perfectly that you are insured long wear.

By wearing these all-wool garments, you are doing the most you can as an individual. But it's this effort on the part of every individual in the country that counts.

We sell Hart Schaffner & Marx all-wool clothing—the kind that conserves wool for the country.

WOMEN'S CAMPAIGN
WELL ORGANIZED

St. Albans, Sept. 27.—The woman's campaign for the fighting fourth is thoroughly organized in every county in the state and, with the adoption of Rudyard Kipling's "Line Up" as the "Battle Hymn of Vermont," the workers are arranging final details for their part in the drive in co-operation with the men.

The conferences, which Mrs. Edward Curtis Smith, state chairman, has held with county and town chairmen in the state have been completed and each county has its own plan of work organized along lines adapted to its special needs. In nearly every county the men and women are working together harmoniously, in fact, this is true in every county with only a few towns excepted.

and in several places where conferences have been held, town, city or county chairmen of the men's committees have spoken in warm appreciation of the women's work.

At the Windsor county meeting the town chairman said he thought the importance of the women's assistance could not be overestimated and in Washington county the county chairman for the men stated that in the third drive the women saved the day in many towns which otherwise would not have made their quotas. In one county the chairman of the men's and women's committees have made a tour of the towns together mapping out plans for co-operative work.

Some of the special features of the campaign are music, four-minute talks by the women in the movies and schools, rallies, community sings and intensive patriotic work in the schools.

Special attention has been paid to the work through the schools. State Commissioner of Education Milo B. Higgins having given his hearty support to the committee. Themes will be written, four-minute speeches made and Liberty loan posters worked out by the pupils. In some towns public patriotic exercises will be held by the schools, and it is expected several will buy school bonds.

"For Your Boy and My Boy," the official campaign song of the National Women's Liberty Loan association, will be sung in the movies, at rallies and community sings, in the schools and in other public gatherings, and it will be played by bands and orchestras.

Two naval officers are to speak in the state from September 28 to October 5. These speakers were secured through the courtesy of a French admiral. They have been on the other side and although they did not touch France they were in the war zone and will have thrilling experiences to relate.

In connection with the big meeting, which is to take place in Montpelier on October 5, the women's committee will have as a speaker in the evening, Mrs. Kellogg Fairbank, president of the advisory council. The heroic size painting done by a Boston artist expressly for the Liberty loan is to be shown at that time. This is the only place in Vermont where the painting will be exhibited.

Co-operation is the watchword in Vermont and the women are not only willing, but anxious to do the part the government has directed them to take. It is felt that the campaign of education and American propaganda will influence many in making a decision to "Save to Buy and Buy to Keep," and will be an important factor in the final result when Vermont goes over the top.

Yours for the fourth Liberty loan, Lena E. Hamilton, state publicity chairman.
